About

Hi, I'm Jenny, the heart and founder of North End Marketing. My passion? Helping small businesses shine. Growing up in Central Minnesota, I learned early on that lending a hand to a neighbor isn't just what we do, it's in our blood. That's why I created North End Marketing: to extend my creative expertise and marketing know-how to local businesses who need a boost but aren't sure where to start. From bold branding to tailored campaigns, we're here to make your vision thrive with a neighborly touch.

I pour my passion for graphic design into creating visuals that make your small business or personal project stand out. From crafting memorable logos and eye-catching stickers/decals to designing travel-inspired artwork, seasonal graphics, bold billboards, websites, brands, and engaging social media posts, I bring your ideas to life with creativity and precision. Whether you need a cohesive brand identity or a single standout piece, I'm here to deliver designs that connect, inspire, and leave a lasting impression.

Protect Underground Utility Assets with Copperhead®

Detecting and marking the precise location of buried utility lines is critical in protecting life and property during excavation. Copperhead's copper-clad steel tracer wire and Complete Utility Locating System® provide the strongest, most reliable, end-to-end signal for utility locating.

We totally agree with Ricky Bobby - being first is pretty awesome! 🏆🏆 We're proud to be the first to introduce copper-clad steel tracer wire and the first Complete Utility Locating System®. We thrive on continuing to bring innovative ideas to the underground utility industry. Exciting things are coming, so #StayTuned! 🚧🚧

Designing a tracer wire system for an underground utility project? The Snakebite Locking Connector is a "must-have" to easily and reliably connect up to 3 tracer wires (or 2 tracer wires and a ground wire). Our innovative connector requires no wire stripping. Just insert the wires, twist, and lock. Keep water and debris out, and create a solid connection using the Snakebite. 🐍
